

A DAY AT THE BEACH – BY SAMMY LARSON

Below my legs I see water

Crabs were circling around in the sand

Diving into the water from a floaty

Eating marshmallows after

Floating around in the water

Gurgling in the water

Hear-filled laughter

Icy cold water

Jumping in the water

Kids running around

Laughing

Making sand castles

Not staying as close to my family as I should

Opening cold drinks

P – Don't do it in the water!

Quickly racing away from the tide

Racing across the beach

Swimming with Sammy

Towels dry me off after

Umbrellas were taken out to shade the sun

Very hot sand burns my toes

Wet water – the worst kind!

Xylophone player was playing at night on the beach

Yellow sand covered me and my body was in the sand

Zebra mussels all over the beach!
